

Understanding changes in disability support: Conversations about the NDIS

South West Qld
22 – 26 June 2015

The National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) starts in Queensland next year.

The NDIS will be a new way of supporting people with a disability across Australia.

People who currently receive disability support will need to move to the new scheme between July 2016 and June 2019. Other eligible people with a disability, who do not currently receive support, will also be able to access the scheme.

The NDIS provides an important impetus for people to think anew about what would make (or build upon) a good life for them or their family member, and the supports that will suit the person and help them enjoy a good life which is sustainable over time.

While this opportunity sounds promising, we know that navigating any new system can be confusing and daunting, so CRU is really pleased to have this opportunity to travel through South West Queensland to talk with people about the new NDIS scheme, what it will mean for people with a disability and what people can do to get ready for when the NDIS starts in Queensland.

Join us for a cuppa and a conversation...

Below are the dates we expect to be in various towns. If you would like to know about the NDIS and what might be possible for people with a disability and their families join us for a cuppa and a conversation (we are open to one to one or small group conversations). We will be in:

- Mitchell on 22 June
- Charleville on 23 June
- Cunnamulla on 24 June
- St George on 25 and 26 June
- Surat on 26 June

Book in now for a time to talk: phone 38442211 or email cru@cru.org.au (See over for more details)

What is the Community Resource Unit Inc. (CRU)?

CRU is a small organisation that believes people with a disability deserve access to the same life as everybody else. We have a 25 year track record of working throughout Queensland to help people with a disability live a good life. This year we have been funded to provide information and help people start to get ready for the National Disability Insurance Scheme.

Even if you cannot make it to a session, we would like to hear from you so give us a call.
