event 1: workshop 9am—4pm

Being Realistic Isn't Realistic: Discovering Potential, Realising Dreams

Presenters: Norman Kunc & Emma Van der Klift

Although Norman Kunc and Emma Van der Klift are well known speakers and advocates within the disability rights community, they think of themselves as modern day storytellers, using humour and narrative to initiate self-reflection and social change.

Norman and Emma travel extensively throughout North America and internationally providing training in the areas of inclusive education, employment equity, behaviour support, and other disability rights issues. Norman and Emma have a book, several journal articles, and three book chapters to their credit. They have also developed 'Conversations that Matter,' an online values training platform consisting of over 120 videos featuring the leading voices in community living and disability rights.

In a fast paced, entertaining workshop filled with 'ah-ha' insights, Norman and Emma will draw on their experience of disability and show how people often get trapped in inefficient habits based on 'deficit' ways of thinking about disability. They encourage a view that people with physical, intellectual and sensory disabilities reflect the diversity of the human community. They contend that what's needed is not an emphasis on 'fixing', remediation and simple 'awareness', but instead a focus on the inherent assets and gifts that each person brings to the community.

Deep curiosity, the expectation that failure is an important part of learning, and a defiant refusal to be 'realistic' can open up new options for people with disabilities. Norman and Emma will bring together ideas about how people with disability can be supported to discover their potential, realise their dreams, and have rich, meaningful lives in community.

*"Disability is not a 'brave struggle' or 'courage in the face of adversity'... disability is an art.
It's an ingenious way to live." Neil Marcus*

Assistance to Attend

It is important to CRU that we make our events accessible to all attendees. If you require assistance you can provide this information as you complete your ticket registration on Eventbrite and if required someone from CRU will contact you for further information.

Due to limited numbers and the venue requirement of full payment for everyone present, unfortunately we will not be able to offer complimentary places for support workers engaged by individuals. If a support worker would like to attend they are welcome to register as a participant. CRU will engage support workers to assist participants who require personal support during the events, including dinner.

Please let us know when registering if you will require assistance.

If this is a barrier to your attendance please contact Catherine at CRU to discuss on (07) 3844 2211

We may be able to offer some assistance with travel and other expenses for people with disabilities and families from regional Queensland. See our website for an application form.
