

A Real Job or Just Filling in Time?

How Social Role Valorisation can help

Every young person deserves to get a job they love. Societal attitudes and low expectations around disability present an unfair barrier to young people.

Social Role Valorisation (SRV) explains why such barriers exist, what can be done to influence attitudes and expectations, and how family members and supporters can assist young people with disability into real jobs.

Who Should Attend?

If you are a parent or supporter of a young person with disability who wants to see them find real work that they enjoy, then this session is for you.

This webinar will cover:

- Key concepts of Social Role Valorisation (SRV)
- How expectations influence employment opportunities
- Being alert to roles as a path to meaningful work

This live webinar will include a Q&A.

About the Presenters:

This webinar will be presented by Lindie Brengman (accredited ASRVA co-teacher) and will also feature pre-recorded video excerpts by Jane Sherwin, one of only two senior trainers in Social Role Valorisation (SRV) in Australia (now retired).
