

School To Work for Secondary Students with Disability

MACKAY WORKSHOP

Imagining, Discovering and Finding Work

School to Work aims to inspire and equip students with disability through the support of their families to seek meaningful, paid employment in the community.

Join us for an interactive and participatory full-day workshop that aims to bring families together to connect and increase confidence to seek out meaningful, paid employment for their secondary school student with disability.

This workshop will enable participants to get actively started in a range of processes so they leave with some concrete plans and strategies to find work for their family member.

Participants will hear stories and experiences from people with a disability and their family members about practical tips and strategies when planning for and finding real and meaningful work.

Topics covered will include:

- Uncovering and identifying individual strengths and interests and using them as a guide for creating potential work roles
- Identifying the conditions that help set up your family member for success in work
- Identifying community connections and contacts to approach for work
- Practical strategies and tips on working collaboratively with other professionals or services
- Developing a positive pitch to get the job
- Exploring what good employment support looks like and how to find the right people to support your family member

About CRU:

For over 30 years, Community Resource Unit has been working across Queensland to help people with disability take control of their lives and take their place in their community.

CRU (QLD), Resourcing Inclusive Communities, an initiative of Family Advocacy (NSW) and Imagine More (ACT) are working together on a three-year project called School To Work. School To Work aims to increase the confidence of and motivate students with disability with the support of their families to seek out meaningful, paid employment in the community.

The project is being provided as part of the Community Inclusion Capacity Development program through The Department of Social Services. If cost is a barrier to attending, please contact CRU to discuss by calling (07) 3844 2211 or email CRU at cru@cru.org.au.
