

School To Work

for Secondary Students with Disability

WEBINAR:

Real Stories of Meaningful Work

This event is a part of our School To Work Project which aims to inspire and equip students with disability, through the support of families, to seek meaningful, paid employment in the community.

This webinar shares inspiring local stories of five young people with disability who have found meaningful employment. Hear from the young person and their family about their job and the wonderful things work brings to their life.

These real life family stories will show what is possible, outline what it takes to get successful work, and show why it is worth the effort. Parents share learnings and tips so you can apply the examples to your own young person and their strengths and situation.

This webinar will cover:

- Family stories demonstrating meaningful work is possible for young people with disability
- Strategies for finding and maintaining meaningful employment, and the role of family in this process
- The importance of the young person being involved throughout the process and tailoring both the journey and the job to the individual
