

Crafting a Vision for Inclusive Employment & Bringing others along with you

Meaningful work is possible. This new face-to-face workshop will help you create a clear vision for inclusive employment for your family member. You will also learn how to involve others to help achieve the vision for meaningful work.

Who Should Attend? This workshop is for families of school-aged students with disability. Whether you are just starting to think about work or already exploring work experience or paid employment, this workshop offers practical tools for achieving meaningful employment. Learn to share your vision and involve family, friends and supporters.

At this workshop you will:

- Think big about a positive future for work.
- Create a clear vision for meaningful employment and share it with confidence.
- Start conversations that inspire others to get involved.
- Turn the vision into action by learning how to ask and involve others.
